

Orientation bootcamp - lead your way in the web !

For young adults in Luxembourg - Discover the jobs related to the web - Learn how to build a path towards these jobs - 6 weeks online training - 3 ½ days per week - Cost is subsidised (no fees for participants)

Training begins : 2 November 2021

Registration at www.numericall.com/my-compass

Whom is it for?

Young adults, 18-29 years old. Living in Luxembourg. No academic prerequisites. Passion for the web, and eagerness to learn about the related jobs. Motivation to move on and build your own path towards such jobs

What do you get?

1. Upgrade of your computer skills. Hands-on, practical, technical training : designing, developing and marketing a website. Getting a clear understanding of 5 key jobs related to the web: Web designer, Web Developer, Webmaster, Web Marketer, Community Manager.
2. Coaching to assist you in understanding your potential and identifying how to build the key competencies to get one of these jobs
3. An action plan to build such competencies and get closer to the employment market

How does it work?

It is ONLINE with live trainers. Two ½ days of technical training (Monday & Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. & Thurs. p.m.). One day (Friday) of employability coaching, to work on your job aspirations, build your career plan, and understand how to build the skills you may be missing. Outcome : you have a website that you have built and an action plan to find the training, education, internship, or apprenticeship which is relevant to get the job you want.

What does it take to participate ?

A strong interest in the web, motivation to upgrade one's skills. Good level in English. Basic computer skills. Positive environment (space, noise) to train online for 6 consecutive weeks. Computer with a good internet connection.
